Acknowledgement of Country

Let’s begin by acknowledging the Traditional Custodians of the many lands on which we respectively meet today.

We acknowledge and respect their continuing connection to the land, water, culture and the contribution they make to the life of our community.

We pay respect to their past and present Elders and their emerging leaders, and extend this respect to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

Electricity Distribution Price Reset

How pricing works

As an electricity distribution network business, the prices customers are charged are regulated by the Australian Energy Regulator.

Every five years a proposal is submitted to the regulator that must outline the:

- services that will be offered
- costs that are likely to be incurred
- prices proposed to be charged to customers during the five-year regulatory period

Electricity Distribution Price Reset

Network businesses submit regulatory proposals, which are assessed against factors including:

- efficiency of costs
- quality of engagement with customers
- projected demand for energy
- age of infrastructure
- operating and financial costs
- network reliability and safety standards.

AER decisions on revenues generally apply for 5 years. To recover these revenues, network businesses adjust their prices annually, in accordance with the requirements in the Rules (including any relevant AER pricing decisions).
